Report on Three Days' International Webinar on Fundamental Mathematics

Three Days International Webinar on Fundamental Mathematics was conducted from 12th to 14th August 2020 sponsored by The Assam Kaziranga University, Jorhat and Ganitsora.

1. Objective:

"Without mathematics, there's nothing you can do. Everything around you is mathematics". Mathematics is an amazing and beautiful intellectual creation, one of the deepest endeavours of the human race. The present workshop was organized with an objective to enhance the basic mathematics skill for the students of Basic Science. This workshop will also give a chance to the participants to interact with the speakers from prestigious institutions, faculty members and students of the department of mathematics of the Assam Kaziranga University.

2. Speakers:

The Workshop had a record of three speakers, all eminent experts in the field of mathematics. The details of speakers and their delivery topics as follow:

Dr. Gautam Kalita, Assistant Professor, IIIT, Guwahati (Title: Number Theory in Cryptography)

Mr. Sarfraz Ahmed, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Mathematics, The Assam Kaziranga University, Jorhat (Title: Basics of differentials equation and their application in biological Sciences)

Dr. Manjil Saikia, Postdoctoral Research Associate, Cardiff University, UK (Title: Basics of permutations and graph theory using games)

3. Participants:

We have received huge responses from students across the World. Total 750 participants have registered from 11 different countries named Nepal, Sri Lanka, Philippines, Oman, Kenya, Iligan City, Liverpool, Bangladesh, Thailand, Nigeria and India. Around 600 candidates participated.

Webinar on ‘Constitution of India and the concept of social Justice’ organized by the School of Social Science

The school of social sciences, The Assam Kaziranga University organized a webinar on ‘Constitution of India and the concept of Social Justice’ on 6th May, 2021. The key speaker of the webinar was Ms. Amrita Sarkar who is an experienced legal practitioner; an advocate residing in the South Delhi. Delivering her presentation on the above mentioned topic, Ms. Sarkar highlighted some of the quite significant questions and aspects pertaining to law and the legal system in India including how law as a mechanism or tool functions; its existence, effectiveness and implementation in society; what are the various types of legislation that can help a diversified country like India; are we really achieving justices, is law equally needed for everyone etc. Her presentation also touched upon some of the important portions of the syllabus prescribed for the social work students of the school. The speaker had also discussed about the concepts like ‘Social Justice’, ‘Responsible Citizen’ by citing practical scenarios and experiences. At a situation when the ongoing pandemic has adversely affected the teaching-learning process and deprived the students of attending offline classes, this session proved much insightful and effective. The webinar was very fruitful for the students of Social Work, and it will certainly help students build the sense of responsible citizen in them. A good number of students and faculty members participated in the webinar. The TAKU School of Social Sciences express its gratitude to Mr. Anirban Saikia, Manager - International Relations & Admissions, and in-house Legal Advisor of The Assam Kaziranga University for helping the school to organize this webinar.

Webinar on “Impact of Covid-19 on daily wage earners in India” organized by the School of Social Sciences

The School of Social Sciences, Assam Kaziranga University organized a webinar on the “Impact of Covid 19 on daily wage earners in India” on 11th May, 2021 from 1.30 pm to 3.30 pm.

The key speaker of the webinar was Mr. Preetom Jyoti Sarma who is the co-founder of two Jorhat based organizations namely “AGRONI” and “SAHAJATRI” which primarily work for academic progress and social development in the rural areas of Assam. Mr. Sarma is currently working in the Assam Agricultural University, Jorhat. Academics, marketing and rural development are some of his key interest areas.

In his presentation, the speaker focused on the following key aspects pertaining to the lives of daily wage earners in India -

- Attitude of the daily wage earners and their attitude towards life.
- Their socio- economic concerns during the Covid-19 pandemic.
- Recommendations and suggestions to fight back with the adverse situations.

The speakers also shared relevant information about how to solve the problems faced by the daily wage earners and improve their livelihood. In this context, he had mentioned about inclusive labor policies and regulations, creation of Central Registry of daily wage earners, awareness on rural entrepreneurship among daily wage earners, formulation and implementation of sustainable livelihoods programs through area based community model to name a few, and how they can help in tackling the problems to a certain extent.

In his speech, Mr. Sarma also mentioned that the problems faced by the daily wage earners in India are pre-existing; now it has become compounded with the outbreak of the pandemic

The webinar was quite useful for the students and the faculty members. A total of 90 plus students participated in the webinar and engaged themselves in meaningful interaction with the speaker.

Workshop on 'Sexual Harassment on Women and Imparting Life Skills to Take Care In different Situations'

The School of Social Sciences, Assam Kaziranga University Organised a one day workshop on 15th May, 2021 in collaboration with Durga India which is a Bangalore based Non- Governmental Organization actively working on nurturing youths to stand for the cause of 'Gender Equality'.

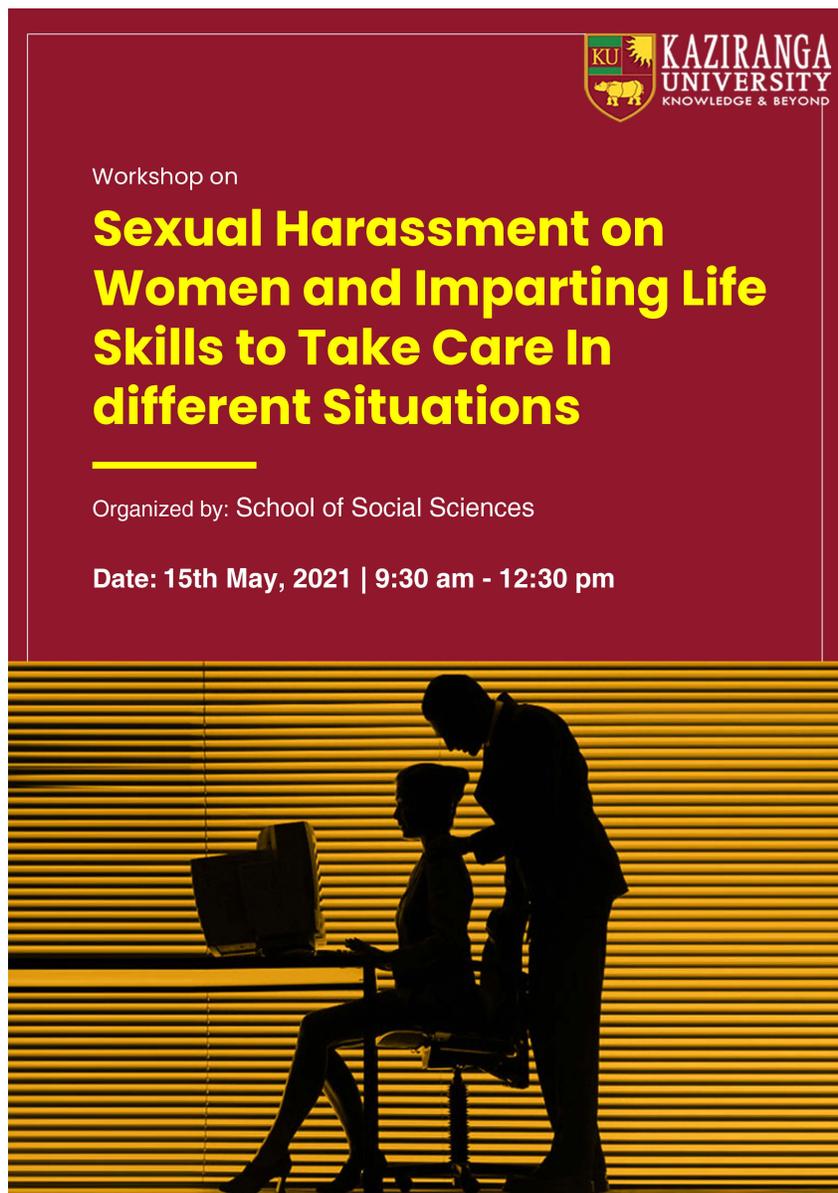

The workshop was split into two sessions. The first session started at 9.30 AM and continued to 12.30 PM. The three hour session centered around the topic of 'Sexual Harassment on Women and Imparting Life Skills to Take Care In different Situations ', where Abirami S and Margaret Johnson were the key speakers. Margaret is a Youth Engagement Strategist, and a certified experimental learning trainer and a transformation coach while Abirami Sundar is a social worker by profession and First Aid and CPR Provider, and a marine conservation enthusiast who has been associated with Durga India as a programme coordinator. The session started with a brief introduction of all the students participating in the workshop followed by an assessment of the participants' knowledge of the current situations, their attitude and approach to the issue of sexual harassment. Both the speakers conducted a very interesting theatre game using the techniques of 'Forum Theatre' to explain sexual harassment, tolerance and finally individual and collective intervention.

The second session started at 2:00 PM in a very enthusiastic manner with making the participants perform certain activities in order to 'break the ice' and make everyone feel comfortable. The entire session was very interactive where the concept of 'Safety' of women was discussed by stating various real life instances by the speakers in the form of 'Short Play'. Participants were given opportunity to showcase their own views and opinion on the concept of Safety and effective measures were put forwarded by the speakers on how we can keep ourselves safe and alert, as well as what immediate and further steps can be taken against any sort of Sexual Harassment against Women.

The workshop also touched upon some of the important aspects related to women's safety and empowerment such as - Safety Habits, Physical Self-defence, Confidence Building, Setting Individual Goals etc. The speakers also discussed and shared relevant information about some of their key projects including 'Durga Panic Alarms in Public Transport', 'VOICE', 'The Flagships Durga Workshop' to name a few.

The workshop was insightful and useful for the students. A total of 70 plus students wholeheartedly participated in the workshop and engaged in meaningful interaction with the speakers.

Webinar on The Silent Suicide of Farmers in India conducted by the School of Social Science

The school of social sciences, Assam Kaziranga University organized a webinar on ‘The Silent Suicide of Farmers in India’ on 24th May, 2021. The key speaker of the webinar was Mr Vivek Namdev who is working as an analyst at Indian Political Action Committee (IPAC).

Delivering his presentation the above mentioned topic, Mr Namdev discussed some of the quite significant aspects related to farmers’ suicide in India, which is a currently a burning social issue in India with a long lasting impact on the farmers, and common people. Discussing the multiple social, economic and cultural settings responsible for farmers’ suicide in India, Mr Namdev said that the ‘farmers are the soul of India’ who work hard to produce food for the whole country, and help us overcome hunger and live a healthy life. His presentation included the following key points related to this issue – farmer suicide, its history and causes; data on farmer suicide; how it affects the society; the measures taken by the government to stop this problem, and finally what we can do to solve this problem.

Mr Namdev stated the number of farmers’ suicide in states like Karnataka, Punjab, Maharashtra, Telangana, and Kerala are comparatively high due to these farmers inability to repay their debts. The inability to repay debt is one of the major reasons of farmer’s suicide in India as pointed out by him. Agricultural distress coupled with class and conflict, hierarchy, influence of middle men, and the poor health condition of farmers are some of the reasons that may add to farmers’ suicide in India.

Mr Namdev mentioned that by reducing the cost involved in purchasing fertilizers, providing agricultural equipments at affordable rates; encouraging cooperative farming; providing insurance to the farmer’s families and waiving off Agricultural Debt, we can help to reduce the number of suicide cases among farmers.

The webinar was useful for the students as well as faculty members. A total of 90 plus students participated in the webinar and engaged in meaningful interaction with the speakers.

Webinar on "Covid-19 and its impact on the mental health of the youths" organized by the School of Social Sciences

The school of social sciences, Assam Kaziranga University organized a webinar on 29th May 2021 on the topic "Covid-19 and its impact on the mental health of the youths". The key speaker of the webinar was Ms. Sampurna Baruah who is currently working as an Assistant Professor at the center for studies in applied psychology in Dibrugarh University. Ms. Baruah's educational background includes an M.Phil in counseling psychology from Amity Institute of Psychology and Allied Sciences Noida, India. The two hour session basically revolved around the importance of mental health during the Covid-19 pandemic.

In her session, Ms Baruah highlighted various points as to why one should not ignore his/her mental health and what are the measures and techniques that can be used in order to maintain one's sanity in the present time. She had also discussed about how mental health can impact one's physical health too or vice versa; about how the problem of mental health is equally important and can be treated like any other disease; she cited various examples of researchers who were engaged on the topic of mental health and Covid-19. She also talked about the diverse ways that can help minimise the problem of stress and anxiety during these stressful times. Being physically active, not worrying too much about the things in life or worrying only for a limited span of time, engaging on our hobbies, talking or keeping tabs on our far-off relatives/loved ones through phones or social media – these are some of the ways that can help in minimizing the problem of stress.

The webinar was a really productive one. There were about 70 plus students including faculties who actively participated in the webinar and made it a successful one.

Workshop on Young Warriors – Role of Youth in Social Change organised by School of Social Sciences

The School of Social Science, Assam Kaziranga University organised a one day workshop on the theme “Young Warriors – Role of Youth in Social Change” collaborating with “WAY Foundation” on 8th June, 2021. The key speaker was Mr. Sanjib Singha who is a youth programme facilitator at WAY (We Are Young) Foundation. Mr Singha has been working with WAY for the last 2 years. He has also worked with various UNICEF projects as a youth mobilizer.

Delivering his presentation on the above mentioned topic, Mr. Singha highlighted the significant aspects and role of youngsters - how young people are demonstrating their leadership in their communities and throughout the countries. He also highlighted how the young generation, particularly some of the youngsters, are working as frontline health workers and communicators to ensure that the voice of the youth is a part of the solutions for a healthier, safer and gender equal world during this on-going pandemic situation.

He also discussed how mental health can impact one's physical health and vice versa. Emphasis was given on how to promote mental health and how young people can contribute to minimise the tension by learning and amplifying medically accurate and e-based evidence information, clarifying myths and misconceptions, eliminating vaccine hesitancy and promoting appropriate behaviours, linking people to health centre, testing centres and verified help lines, facilitating safe spaces for young people to seek informational, psychosocial support etc. during this difficult situation caused by Covid-19. The session was also centred on with the role of ‘Young Warrior Movement’– A Pan-India Movement to combat Covid-19 by “YUVAAH” and vaccination procedure.

The session was quite interactive where the speaker had given an interesting task to the participants named ‘How to identify a Fake News’. The students wholeheartedly participated in this activity and the speaker also suggested few steps regarding how to be aware of fake news and create awareness among people regarding not to spread any social-media posts or fake news, not to believe in news blindly, but to trust only verified sources or links from WHO, UNICEF, MoFHW.

The workshop was very engaging and productive for the students of social work. It will certainly help the students to build the sense of responsible citizen in them. A total no of 75 students including faculties actively participated in the webinar.
